SR19D. USCHA requires a minimum 2 ½ head of cattle per entry in fresh cattle classes. USCHA recommends 4 head of cattle per entry in rerun cattle classes.

SR20. USCHA Fee and Payout Schedule:

SR20A. In all cutting horse contests approved by the USCHA, show producers will remit to the USCHA office a $5.00 per horse fee based on the number of horses entered at their shows. $3.00 of this fee will be guaranteed to be utilized by the USCHA as added money at the USCHA National Championships and $2.00 for USCHA National Championship Awards.

In all cutting horse shows approved by the USCHA, three percent (3%) of the total entry fees paid in the contest shall be deducted by the Show Management and retained by the show producer.

SR20B. Entry fees and added money will be determined by Show Management. If any charge is to be made other than an entry fee, such as a cattle charge, office charge, handling fee or stall fee, video or grounds fee, it must be stated and separated from the entry fee.

SR20C. No deduction, other than as specified above, shall be made by Show Management or producer. Failure to comply with this rule will result in show approval being withdrawn.

SR20D. The number of horses in a class determines the number of monies to be paid. Mandatory payout schedule for all classes is as follows:

4-5	2	60,40
6-9	3	50, 30, 20

SR20E. USCHA will not recognize any classes with fewer than three (3) horses in order to be an approved USCHA class. Refer to SR16E.

SR20F. For a USCHA approved show to count towards qualifying for a USCHA National Championship event the show must have a minimum of $200 added monies in two of the following classes: Open, Non- Pro, $15,000 Novice, $15,000 Non-Pro, $50,000 Non-Pro, $5,000 Novice or Ranch Cutting classes.

SR20G. All show producers may qualify their added money in any class based on the number of entries. The following example is recommended NOT MANDATORY:

10-14 horses per class $300 added
15-19 horses per class $400 added

SR21. Show Management may accept late entries until one-fourth (1/4) of the horses in the class concerned have worked. Any late entries must work last in the first available bunch of cattle. When two (2) late entries arrive simultaneously, a draw will be held and said entries inserted in the next subsequent bunches of cattle with one (1) entry being placed in each bunch. If the number of late entries exceeds the number of cattle bunches, additional late entries will be added to the first available bunch.

Example:           1st group – late entry A
                          2nd group – late entry B
                          3rd group – late entry C

A 4th entry would be added to the first available bunch of cattle.

SR22. Each horse's scores from all go-rounds will be added together to determine which horses advance to the finals.

In Open Ranch Cutting a rider may show (2) eligible horses. Each horse must have the same rider throughout any contest with more than one (1) go-round or a finals. With the exception of the youth class, (see pg 14). Under no circumstances can the same horse be shown by more than one (1) rider in any one (1) class at an USCHA approved show.

SR24. At all USCHA contests, announcers are required to make known the name of each horse and the horse's owner and rider at the time of their performance. The winners are also to be announced in a similar manner after each class.

SR25. The time allotted each horse to work is two and one-half (2 ½) minutes; the time will start when a contestant crosses a time line designated by Show Management. If the clock has not been started or if it malfunctions, the Show Secretary or timer shall notify the judge(s). The judge(s) has the sole right to terminate a horse's performance.

SR25A. Short Clock: A contestant will be awarded a complete rework if in the judge(s) opinion two and one-half (2 ½) minutes was not allotted for the work or if excessive disturbances had been created by factors other than those created by the Contestant or his/her help and the judge(s) has stopped the time. These factors would include gates coming open, fences falling down, and objects entering or falling in or near the working portion of the arena, but would not apply to cattle scattering or normal arena activities. Any rework must take place within the bunch of cattle drawn by the contestant and must occur before a change of cattle is executed. At the contestant's option, the rework may occur immediately or as the last work in that bunch of cattle. After a contestant has completed a two and one-half (2 ½) minute work, if in the contestant's opinion, a situation has occurred of sufficient seriousness to warrant a rerun, the contestant may immediately make a request for a rerun to the judge via show management before leaving the working area before the next horse works. If the judge agrees that due cause did exist, a rerun may be granted provided the original work was free of a three (3) or a five (5) point (major) penalty prior to the disturbance. Reworks shall not be granted in the event a contestant's equipment breaks during a horse's performance. Long Clock or No clock: In the instance of Long Clock or No Clock will be automatically granted whether or not a major penalty has occurred. The contestant must take a rework.

(Each producer will be responsible for designating pre-entry contact and detailed information for their show. Including but not limited to exact time entries are closed and contact options). This information must be on the USCHA website 10 days prior to contest. A credit card will be required for pre-entry. Credit card may be replaced day of show by check or cash at the request of the contestant. If credit

Section 7 - Disciplinary Procedures

SR41. Any USCHA member may be disciplined, fined, placed on probation or suspended from the USCHA, and any member may be denied all privileges, including show privileges, of the USCHA by the Committee Members whenever it shall have been established by a preponderance of the evidence that such member has violated any rule of the USCHA. SR41A. The decision of the USCHA Committee members shall be final and binding on all parties.

SR41B. A suspended person by the USCHA will not be allowed to participate in any USCHA approved cutting horse contest as an owner of a horse, a rider, or an agent. A suspended person shall be Any suspension and denial of privileges under this section shall terminate upon full payment of the obligation due the USCHA.

SR44. If any member institutes litigation in which the USCHA is included as a defendant in an effort to recover damages, to overturn enforcement or interpretation of the Rules or Regulations, or for any other reason what so ever, and does not prevail in said litigation by the recovery of all relief requested, said member shall be liable to the USCHA for its attorney's fees, costs of courts, and other expenses incurred in connection with such litigation. ### Section 8 – Rules for Judging Cutting Horse Contests

SR47. A horse will be given credit for his ability to enter a herd of cattle quietly with very little disturbance to the herd or to the cow being brought from the herd. One (1) deep cut must be made into the herd, failure to make a deep cut will result in a three (3) point penalty being assessed.

SR47A. When a cow is cut from the herd, it is more desirable that the cow be taken toward the center of the arena, and credit will be given for same. Additional credit will be given the horse which drives a cow a sufficient distance from the herd to insure that the herd will not be disturbed by the horse's performance.

SR47B. Credit will be given for the ability of the horse to hold a cow in the center portion of the cutting arena, although no penalty should be imposed if a cow goes to a fence on either side of the arena.

SR48. Additional credit will be given for riding with a loose rein throughout a performance.

SR48A. During a run, a rider will be penalized one (1) point each time the reins are used to control or direct the horse. If the reins are tight enough so that the bit is bumped at any time during the run, even though the rider does not move his or her hand, a one (1) point penalty will be assessed for each occurrence.

SR48B. The rider shall hold the bridle reins in one hand. A three (3) point penalty will be assessed if the rider's second hand touches the reins for any purpose other than to straighten the reins while returning to the herd only after working a cow.

SR48C. A rider must cease reining his/her horse as soon as the desired cow is clear of the herd. Additional reining or cueing will result in a one (1) point penalty for each occurrence. A rider is allowed to place his hand and touch the horse's neck. The rider at no time may run his hand up the neck of the horse. At the discretion of the judge, a one point penalty may be assessed each time the rider cues the horse with his hands.

SR48D. If a rider or the rider's horse creates a disturbance at any time throughout the working time, penalties will be assessed as follows:

1. Any noise created or directed by the contestant toward the cattle will be penalized one (1) point.
2. Any time that a disturbance causes cattle enter the working area through the fault of the horse or contestant, the contestant will be penalized three (3) points. If, at no fault of the horse or contestant, additional cattle leave the herd, no penalty will be assessed.
3. The judge shall stop any work because of excessive training or abuse of the horse by the contestant or disturbance of the cattle. Any contestant failing to stop immediately when requested or upon a whistle blown by the judge will be subject to disciplinary action by the USCHA that will automatically result in a fine of $300.

SR48E. A horse will be penalized three (3) points each time the back fence actually stops or turns the cow being worked within one (1) stride or three (3) feet of the back fence. The “back fence” is to be agreed on and designated by the judge(s) before the contest starts, meaning the actual fence only, no imaginary line from point to point to be considered. If any of the contestants in the contest objects to the proposed back fence before the contest starts, the judge(s) shall take a vote of the contestants and a back fence acceptable to the majority shall be designated and used.

SR49. If a horse is to “lose” a cow or lets a cow that he is working get back in the herd, he will be penalized five (5) points.

SR50. If a rider changes cattle after visibly committing to a specific cow, a five (5) point penalty will be assessed. A Cutter shall be committed whenever he makes two moves to a specific animal. One move may also result in commitment to a specific animal when that single move clearly and obviously indicates a specific animal has been selected.

SR51. If a horse turns tail toward a cow being worked, an automatic score of sixty (60) points will be given.

SR52. If a horse quits a cow, a penalty of five (5) points will be assessed.

SR53. If a horse clears the herd with two (2) or more cows and fails to separate a single cow before quitting, a five (5) point penalty will be assessed. There will be no penalty if time clock expires before a single cow is separated.

SR54. Unnecessary roughness or aggression, such as a horse pawing, biting, or kicking a cow, will result in a three (3) point penalty being assessed.

SR55. If a rider spurs a horse in the shoulder, a three (3) point penalty shall be assessed for each occurrence. Spurring behind the shoulder is not to be considered a visible cue and should not be penalized.

SR56. A rider makes contact using a toe, foot, or stirrup on the horse's shoulder it is considered a visible cue, and a one (1) point penalty shall be assessed for each occurrence.

SR57. When a horse goes past a cow or is working out of position to a degree that the horse loses his working advantage, a one (1) point penalty will be assessed for each occurrence.

SR58. A contestant may quit a cow when it is obviously completely stopped, obviously turned away, or is behind the turn back horses and the turn back horses must be behind the time line. If the cow is quit under any other circumstances, a penalty of three (3) points shall be assessed.

SR59. All horses in the show arena must be ridden with a bridle having a bit in the mouth or with a hackamore. Bridle must have split reins. A bridle shall have no nose band or bosal, and hackamores shall be rope or braided rawhide with no metal parts. A judge must be able to freely pass two (2) fingers completely around the horse's nose between the hackamore and muzzle. A judge may request a bit drop at his or her discretion. Choke ropes, lip wire or lip string, tie downs, wire around the horse's neck, nose, or brow band, tight nose bands, quirts, bats, whip or mechanical devices giving the rider excessive control over a horse will not be permitted in the arena where an USCHA approved contest is being held. Breast collars may be used, no portion of which may pass over the horse's neck. Chaps and spurs may be worn. The tail of a horse that is competing must not be restrained or tied in any manner which restricts movement of the tail. A Judge has the right to have a contestant report to him if he is suspicious of any infraction of this rule. Any time a contestant is guilty of an infraction of this rule, the contestant shall be disqualified.

SR60. At any USCHA approved show, any person in the working area in front of the judge's stand shall be required to adhere to the dress code. Failure to comply with this dress code will result in disqualification from a class or go-round with no score.

SR61. Any rider who allows his horse to quit working or who leaves the working area before his allotted time is up will be disqualified for that class or go-round with no score. A zero or no score will receive no monies.

SR62. When a contestant is thrown, falls or steps off a horse, or if a horse falls to the ground, an automatic score of zero (0) will be given. A horse is considered to have fallen to the ground when the horse is on its side and all four feet are extended in the same direction.

SR63. Each contestant is limited to a maximum of four (4) helpers.

SR64. A judge marks each performance from sixty (60) to eighty (80) points. One-half (1/2) points may be used.

SR65. When a judge is in doubt about a penalty, the benefit of doubt always should go to the contestant.

SR66. The judge may give a score with a review. The judge must report that there will be a review prior to the next horse in a class crossing the time line. All reviews must be made prior to the judge turning in his or her judging card to the show secretary and prior to the announcement of the official placing of the class.

SR67. In any contest judged by two (2) or more judges, the judge calling a review will always review the run first. If a major penalty of 3 or 5 points is assessed, that penalty and only that penalty, shall be reviewed by all judges (or the monitor when applicable), and a determination made immediately following the completion of the class. No review may be conducted subsequent to the announcement of the official placing of the class.

SR68. Contestant Request Review System-

During a USCHA sanctioned contest where C.R.R.S. is used a contestant may (in a sportsman like manner) request the judge or judges to review his or her run if a 3 or 5 point penalty is called. This will be done by rider clearly holding up Review Request Flag in the arena and gaining the attention of the show secretary and or announcer. The cost of each request is $100 payable to the USCHA before review is made at the event. The contestant must make review request after his or her score is announced and before the next horse in the class goes to the herd. If the contestant is the last draw in the class the review request must be made before judge or judges turn in their score card. All contestants will know if a major penalty has been called after each run. This will be done by the announcer when the score is called. The announcer will call the numerical score followed by the letter "P" standing for 3 or 5 point penalty when indicated. Example score 70P. In addition, any rider within a class during a show where the Contestant Request Review System is in place may request a review by clearly holding up Review Request Flag in the arena and gaining the attention of the show secretary and or announcer. The review request must be made before judge or judges turn in their score card for that class. The cost of each request is $100 payable to the USCHA before review is made at the event. This request for review may be made if there is no "P" (penalty) indicated when a score is called and contestant feels that a 3 or 5 point penalty was missed. No contestant may ask for a review on a run that the judge or judges themselves call for a review. If the judge or judges after a contestant review request change the score in favor of the contestant review request the contestant will be refunded the $100 fee at the event. Any contest purse in which a contestant review request is made will be paid out accordingly to the official USCHA payout according to any score corrections and after scores are made official and announced. All single and multiple judged USCHA sanctioned shows have the right to use the Contestant Request Review System. "Double judged for double payout shows will not use C.R.R.S. If a show is to have C.R.R.S. in place it must be indicated on the show application when sent in to USCHA for approval. Also, it must be clearly posted prior to start of show that C.R.R.S. is being used and kept posted for the duration of the show.

The following questions and answers are included here as an aid and example to understanding the Rules for Judging Cutting Horse Contests in the USCHA.

1. What is the desired number of cattle to work?

The desired number of cattle to cut in the two and one-half (2 ½) minute time limit is three (3) head of cattle. If a cutter can do as much on two (2) head as another cutter can do on three (3), the cutter working the two (2) head should have the higher score because he or she has not spent as much time in the herd.

2. What is the preferable way to approach the herd?

A horse should approach the herd quietly, as not to disturb the cattle. The horse should display no hesitation, weaving, or reluctance to approach and enter the herd.

3. What characteristics should a cutting horse demonstrate when entering and working a herd of cattle?

A cutting horse should enter the herd calm and quiet, concentrating and not being easily distracted. The horse should be alert and intent, but make no unnecessary movements to disturb the cattle. A horse should proceed deep enough into the herd on at least one (1) cut to demonstrate the ability to bring out a single cow. The rider may enter the herd from either side or to go completely behind the herd to bring out a cow.

4. When should a rider cease reining a horse?

A rider may have light rein contact with the horse when entering the herd, and can maintain this light contact while the rider is in the herd and in the process of cutting a single cow from the herd. When a cow is cut completely free from the herd, the rider should cease reining the horse, allowing ample slack in the reins so that it is obvious to the judge that the horse is working without being reined.

5. What is the most desirable way to bring a cow from the herd?

The cutting horse should stay a reasonable distance from the cow if possible, showing a great deal of expression but no illness such as biting, trying to bite, pawing, kicking, or charging at a cow. The horse should mirror and counter a cow's movement regardless of the distance separating them. The horse should not rush or push on cattle when bringing a cow from the herd unless the cow turns around and tries to get back at the edge of the herd. The horse should drive a cow a sufficient distance from the herd toward the center of the arena, so the herd will not be disturbed while the horse is working, and set up the cow to be worked.

6. When is a cow in proper working position?

The cow should be driven out of herd and positioned as close to the middle of the arena as possible with the horse counteracting or mirroring the movements of the cow. The horse should not move when the cow is standing still. When the cow moves, the horse should control and hold the cow, not only from returning to the herd, but also from going from the side of the pen wall to the opposite side of pen wall. A higher score will be given to a cutting horse that "heads" or stops cattle and holds the cow closest to the center of the arena.

7. When is a cutting horse out of working position?

A horse is out of position when he goes past a cow excessively and is unable to regain control of the cow. Credit should be given to a horse who shows the ability to stop a cow and regain control moving in the opposite direction.

8. What is considered picking up or scattering cattle or herd during a run?

Any time a horse is close to the herd and initiates disturbance of cattle causing them to scatter or come out from the herd and enter the working area.

9. What is a satisfactory way of quitting a cow?

A contestant may quit a cow when it is obviously stopped, obviously turned away, or is behind the turn back horses and the turn back horses are behind the time line. If a cow is quit under any other circumstances, a three (3) point penalty will be assessed.

Suggestions for Show Management

- Complete and return show application in a timely manner to the United States Cutting Horse Association. All requests for show approval must comply with standing rules of USCHA. The premium lists and entry applications must be filled out completely.
- Determine the amount of purse, entry fee, and the date that entries will close.

Pre-Entry

Pre-entry will be HIGHLY RECOMMENDED for ALL USCHA contests utilizing fresh cattle. The contestants shall be responsible for paying the cattle charge portion only of total entry fee if they fail to participate in any contest they pre-enter and are not placed in final draw. "Slots" may be used by substitutions or sold without penalty as long as all standing rules are upheld. Pre-entry will occur 3 days prior to the first day of the date of the contest or contests. (Each producer will be responsible for designating pre-entry contact and detailed information for their show. Including but not limited to exact time entries are closed and contact options). This information must be on the USCHA website 10 days prior to contest. A credit card will be required for pre-entry. Credit card may be replaced day of show by check or cash at the request of the contestant. If credit card secured for cattle charge payment is used there will be an additional 3% convenience fee charged for total amount due. If the show producer cannot secure the proper amount to cattle required by contestants that have pre-entered they must notify the contestants the day before any contest. Cattle will not be ordered for contestants in fresh cattle classes that do not have at least three (3) entries. Show producers will be responsible for contacting all contestants that are involved in these pre-entry situations. Any contestants that do not pre-enter a fresh cattle class under specified pre-entry rules shall be considered an "Add on".

- The entry fee must not be less than $20.00 per horse. Entry fees shall be added to the purse. If any additional charges are to be made other than an entry fee, they must be denoted as a stall, grounds, handling, cattle, or office charge, and must be separated from the entry fee. In any class where rerun cattle are used, the cattle charge should be reduced.
- Any show with added money exceeding $500.00 in any one contest or class must be approved by the committee members.
- Select judge(s) from the USCHA Approved Judges List.
- Determine the number of go-rounds that will be worked.
- Appoint a Contestant Representative for each approved class.
- A judge who is judging a contest must draw for working order of horses in all classes.
- If the clock malfunctions, the Show Secretary or show staff shall notify the judge(s). The judge(s) has the sole right to terminate a horse's performance.
- Show Management should monitor loping pen conduct. Riders should walk or trot keeping slower traffic to the inside of the warm up area, and lope to the outside of the loping area. Keep sufficient distance away from other riders. Ponying or riding double on horses in warm up area is prohibited. Stop and back horses away from the flow of horses. All horses will be kept in a flow of one direction. USCHA recommends monitoring appropriate attire and conduct in the loping pen.

Show Producers Guide For A Better Show

1. Keep a tractor on hand with the dirt working equipment to properly maintain the arena.
2. Have the ability to wet down the arena, cattle pens, etc. to control dust.

3. A good sand arena surface should be created to protect the competing horse. It should not be overly deep and should have a consistency that allows a horse to turn hard without fear of the ground slipping or giving away.
4. Ensure that the facility has adequate lighting for late evening or nighttime shows.
5. Facilities with small arenas will need to supply an adjacent warm-up area. Consideration should be given to good, safe footing in any additional warm up areas.
6. It is very important that cattle are taken care of properly. Give them plenty of space in pens, shade and shelter if needed. Provide clean water to drink and hay or forage.
7. Judging stands should be centered and placed where judges can see the horses work without interference. Keep all bystanders and horse traffic away from them and their stands.
8. Have concessions or drinking water available for contestants.
9. Have restroom facility.
10. Follow all USCHA rules and treat everyone alike and be courteous.

Ground

There are three key elements to make a great cutting; good cattle, good judges and good ground.

Cutting horses should be loped and exercised before working. Horses do not need to lope and work on hard ground, it is debilitating to their joints and muscles. The loping pen and the working pen must provide ground deep enough to provide protection to the horse. Injuries can occur to both horses and riders from falls that result from slick or hard ground.
